Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands how to keep children safe and the procedures to follow if she had any concerns for a child's well-being. She has kept up to date with changes to legislation.
- The childminder has a suitable range of play materials, equipment and resources. This covers all areas of learning and is suitable for children of different ages and abilities.
- The childminder has a suitable understanding of how to ensure all children's development is tracked by completing robust observations. She knows how to use this information to plan pertinent activities that enhance children's all-round development, so that they make good progress.
- The childminder understands the significance of partnership working. Through discussion, she explains the importance of sharing information with parents, carers and other providers to support children's learning and development.
- The childminder appropriately demonstrates how she will reduce risks and hazards to children in her home and while on outings. She has comprehensive risk assessments in place and implements daily health and safety checks when caring for children.
- The childminder understands the importance of promoting children's good health. She explains how she would encourage outdoor physical play, healthy eating habits and effective hygiene procedures.
- The childminder understands the need to evaluate her provision to ensure continuous improvement. She has addressed the actions raised at the last inspection.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector toured the premises and viewed the play equipment.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she intends to deliver the educational programmes for children.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she monitors and evaluates her practice.
- The inspector held discussions with the childminder about her procedures for safeguarding children.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
